Message From the President

Martin County Bar President - R. Wayne Richter, Esq.

Dear Members & Friends,

Welcome to spring! Actually, the first day of spring was March 19th for those of us that live in the northern hemisphere. The first day of spring coincides with the spring, or vernal, equinox. According to the Associated Press, the vernal equinox, along with the autumnal equinox, which is in the fall, is the day when there is almost the exact same number of hours of day and night.<sup>1</sup> Although, since we live in Florida, the seasons seemingly have no correlation to weather temperatures. Yesterday, (at the time of writing) it reached 90 degrees, which I call summer.

Last month, the MCBA held its inaugural trivia night at Monarch Country Club. This was a casual and fun, but spirited event. Thank you to all the teams that participated. Our winning team, Team Sawyer, was led by member Tom Sawyer. We received plenty of positive feedback and we already look forward to next year's contest! Also, congratulations to member Andy Reich for winning the MCBA Tennis Tournament that was held on March 9th at Willoughby Country Club. Thank you to MCBA Past President Chad Hastings and his team for organizing the tournament. Likewise, thank you to everyone that attended our monthly meeting in March. As part of the "President's Speaker Series", we were treated to the insights of the Honorable Victor Ashe, II, the former ambassador to Poland, regarding the state of affairs in Eastern Europe.

Our April meeting will be held on April 22nd at Monarch Country Club in Palm City. Networking begins at 11:30 a.m. and the program will start at noon. April's program will be our annual Judicial Roundtable Discussion with the Judges. The plan is to hear a brief "State of the Circuit" address from Nineteenth Circuit Chief Judge Charles Schwab, and to have a judge from each division (civil, criminal, family, etc.) on hand to answer your questions. Historically, this is a well-attended event and I hope to see you there!

Just a few important dates to take notice of.

April 12th is the last day to purchase tickets to the Annual Banquet at early-bird pricing. The banquet will be held at Piper's Landing Yacht & Country Club in Palm City on May 4, 2024. This year's theme is: The Kentucky Derby: The Run for the Roses! Come watch the Kentucky Derby live, and enjoy drinks, dinner, dancing and gaming action. Lock in your tickets at a reduced price now! Tickets may be purchased online at: <https://www.martincountybar.com/event/mcba-banquet/>

R. Wayne Richter
2023-24 President

April 20th is the 5k Run/Walk to the Courthouse. Part of the mission of the MCBA is to engage in service to the community. We do that annually by providing money to fund college scholarships and contribute to the Martin County Legal Aid Society. Other than the golf tournament, the 5k race is the only event that funds these community service endeavors. Thank you to MCBA Treasurer Gene Zweben for helming this huge undertaking. For more information, and to sign up for the race go to: <https://runsignup.com/Race/Events/FL/Stuart/TheRacetotheCourthouse5k>

April 24th is Administrative Professionals Day. Be sure to take care of those who take care of you!

Lastly, if you have not heard the Florida Bar has mandated a new CLE program titled: Professionalism Expectations: A Mandatory CLE for Members of the Florida Bar. Learn more about this mandatory CLE requirement at: <https://tfb.inreachce.com/Details/Information/50353a32-ef54-4e19-a1d7-4f7672f4c79e>

Sincerely,

R. Wayne Richter

Employment Law

Chair – David Miklas, Esq.
(representing employers only)

Real-world example

An employee has Tourette Syndrome, which causes him to use obscene and inappropriate vocalizations, including profanity (bi***) and a racial slur “N-word”. He works as a delivery driver where he interacts with customers. While he is making a delivery he begins using offensive language while servicing a customer store.

What exactly does he do? He “frequently and freely” uses a racial slur inside a Dollar General store while in front of customers and a Black cashier. The customer (store) manager became very uncomfortable and concerned for the delivery driver’s safety, as well as his customers and associates that may be offended by the driver’s “tic” word.

During the meeting when human resources meets with the driver, he uses racial slurs and other profanity. Shortly thereafter the driver submits, and the employer approves, an FMLA request, and while on leave the driver’s medication is adjusted, he gets a new neurologist, obtains treatment from a counselor, and receives acupuncture therapy. This seemed to help his tics, so he returns to work, but it’s not long until he starts using racial slurs while making deliveries again. The employer adjusts his route and lets him take short-term disability leave. He is cleared with the restriction: “Needs to be present with another driver” and he is transferred into a driver helper position.

Things are okay for over a year, but then his tics are once again out of control, and he is repeating the “N-word” over and over through his daily route and in the presence of customers.

The employer gives him a choice: 1) take another leave of absence or 2) transfer to a vacant, overnight warehouse position with no customer interaction. He takes the warehouse position, but feels it is a “demotion” because it pays less and is “far less desirable” so he quits a few months later and sues for ADA discrimination and retaliation. The District Court grants summary judgment for the employer and the employee appeals. The 6th Circuit Court of Appeals recently affirmed the District Court’s ruling that the employer complied with the ADA. Cooper v. Dolgencorp, LLC, 2024 U.S. App. LEXIS 3578 (6th Cir. Feb. 15, 2024). This case demonstrates the type of work that an employer should be prepared to make in order to successfully show that it engaged in an interactive process with an employee to explore whether there is a reasonable accommodation. All too often employers want to terminate as soon as an issue arises, without appreciating that the issue may have been caused by a disability and that triggers obligations under the ADA.

Wills, Trusts and Estates

Chair – Matthew Worsham, Esq.

The Wills, Trusts, and Estates Committee is planning a Zoom meeting to discuss the new developments presented at February’s meeting of The Florida Bar’s Real Property Probate and Trust Law Section. The meeting is scheduled for April 23, 2024, at 12:00 p.m.

The Corporate Transparency Act: What You Need to Know

Private wealth and tax attorneys William G. “Bill” Smith, LL.M., and Rachel L. Sears authored an excellent article on the Corporate Transparency Act (“CTA”). The following is an edited and modified version specifically tailored to Wills, Trusts, and Estates; however, I encourage you to review the full-length version (<https://jonesfoster.com/our-perspective/understanding-corporate-transparency-act-2024>).

The CTA mandates the establishment of a nonpublic centralized beneficial ownership registry, a secure database maintained by the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (“FinCEN”) within the U.S. Department of the Treasury. This registry will gather and retain information about the true beneficial owners of legal entities, ensuring that law enforcement, financial institutions, and relevant authorities can access the necessary data to effectively combat financial crimes. However, in doing so, the CTA creates an administrative reporting burden on law-abiding entities and individuals. The CTA defines a “reporting company” as any entity that must file with a secretary of state or other domestic governmental authority unless an exemption applies. These entities include corporations, limited liability companies (LLCs), limited partnerships, and similar structures, as well as foreign entities registered to do business in the United States.

A trust is not itself a reporting company as it is neither created nor typically required to register to do business by the filing of a document with a secretary of state or any similar office. Instead, FinCEN examines the authority and beneficial interests of the parties involved namely, the trustee, the grantor, and the beneficiaries of the trust, in determining whether each one of them is a beneficial owner of a reporting company owned by the trust.

- A trustee of a trust can exercise substantial control over a reporting company through the exercise of his or her powers as a trustee over the corpus of the trust. For example: By exercising control rights associated with shares held in trust such as investment management and voting powers over ownership interests.
- The grantor of a trust can exercise substantial control over a trust if the grantor holds the authority to revoke the trust.
- A beneficiary who is the sole recipient of trust income and principal or who has the right to demand a distribution of or withdraw substantially all of the trust assets will be considered to have the ability to exercise substantial control over the trust.

Matthew Worsham
Chair

While this is a small portion of the CTA’s impact, Bill and Rachel’s article provides a more detailed outline of its application. I hope this article was interesting and applicable to your practice. Please contact me at mworsham@jonesfoster.com for inclusion on the Committee’s emails and/or to share any potential speakers, topics, or articles.

The Paralegal Committee CLE Meeting was a huge success with the Greg Weiss of Mrachek Law and Florida’s Board of Governors speaking on the topic of Electronically Stored Information (ESI), Discovery in State and Federal Courts. Mr. Weiss provided an informative narration on how discovery is changing due to electronic discovery and ESI.

PRESIDENT'S SPEAKER SERIES

We had another stellar and sold-out membership luncheon in February this time to hear Wisconsin Circuit Judge Jennifer Dorow discuss presiding over the Darrell Brooks trial, which was a bizarre case that made national news. Judge Dorow ended her time with us talking about the importance of lawyer civility both in and out of the courtroom.

A special thank you to Blanc Mediation for sponsoring the luncheon.

American Coastal Insurance Company v. San Marco Villas Condominium Association, Inc., Case No. SC2021-0883 (Fla. 2024).

Q.G.S. Development, Inc. v. National Lining Systems, Inc., Case No. 3D22-699 (Fla. 3d DCA 2024).

The factual findings of a trial judge in a bench trial are entitled to the weight of a jury verdict.

Selz v. McKagen, Case 4D2023-0099 (Fla. 4th DCA 2024).

Pleading punitive damages requires a plaintiff demonstrate specific intent by the defendant, i.e., requires plaintiff to show more than the defendant "knew or should have known" of the wrongfulness of their conduct.

City of Delray Beach v. DeLeonibus, Case No. 4D2023-012 (Fla. 4th DCA 2024).

Equitable estoppel cannot compel local government to abide by a building permit it issued when the government official had no authority to issue the permit, i.e., the permit was void when issued.

Dozier v. Scruggs, Case No. 5D23-0594 (Fla. 5th DCA 2024).

A mediated settlement agreement which requires one party to provide an easement is enforceable even if the settlement agreement does not contain a timeframe to provide the easement.

Xiang v. Ocala Heart Clinic II, LLC, Case No. 5D23-1402 (Fla. 5th DCA 2024).

A party may be the prevailing party for purposes of attorney's fees even if it fails to prove damages, i.e., fails to prevail, on its breach of contract claim.

Loanflight Lending, LLC v. Bankrate, LLC, Case No. 2D22-3394 (Fla. 2d DCA 2024).

A forum selection clause must be agreed to by the parties, and an evidentiary hearing is required if a party raises a colorable claim that it did not assent to the agreement.

Vindel v. Stewart, Case No. 3D22-757 (Fla. 3d DCA 2024).

Certification of business records of a foreign bank account under Florida Statute section 90.803(6) must meet the evidentiary requirements of section 90.803(11) and state that the records were made at or near the time of the occurrence of the matters set forth, by or from information transmitted by, a person having knowledge of those matters and that the records were kept in the course of the regularly conducted activity and were made as a regular practice in the course of the regularly conducted activity.

Arrow Property Insurance Adjusters, Inc. v. People's Trust Insurance Company, Case No. 3D22-2162 (Fla. 3d DCA 2024).

Parol evidence may be used to interpret an ambiguous contract only when the ambiguity exists on the face of the contract.

Curtis v. The City of Hollywood, Case No. 4D2022-3166 (Fla. 4th DCA 2024).

Florida Statute section 163.360(7)(a) requires local government to provide relocation assistance to tenants displaced by redevelopment but does not require evidentiary hearings and the gathering of testimony to determine the adequacy of the assistance.

Presidio, Inc. v. Feeny, Case No. 4D2023-0045 (Fla. 4th DCA 2024).

Even if there is a schedule to determine the bonus, an incentive program under an employment contract is discretionary if the bonus program is not part of the employment agreement.

A trustee may not appear pro se for a trust.

Haskell v. PCP Group, LLC, Case No. 2D22-180 (Fla. 2d DCA 2024).

The following provision in an operating agreement applies only when a member attempts to transfer ownership and not when a divorce court deems one spouse the owner of membership units:

(e) Divorce. The attempt by a Member or his or her spouse . . . to Transfer any Units . . . pursuant to any court order issued or court ordered property settlement agreement entered into in connection with, a suit for dissolution of marriage, legal separation or any similar status.

Desbrunes v. US Bank National Association, Case No. 4D2022-264 (Fla. 4th DCA 2024).

If a defendant borrower dies during the pendency of foreclosure case, Florida Rule of Civil Procedure 1.260 requires the plaintiff open an estate and substitute the personal representative in place of the deceased borrower.

Ningbo Daye Garden Machinery Co., Ltd. International Global Resources Corp., Case No. 4D2023-0803 (Fla. 4th DCA 2024).

The following is a choice of law provision and not a forum selection clause: “The within Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of Florida, Martin County. In the event that an action arises by virtue of this agreement, the prevailing party will be entitled to reimbursement of all reasonable attorney fees and costs incurred in such action.”

A code enforcement lien against a condominium unit is not a lien against the common elements of the condominium.

SBP Homes, LLC v. 84 Lumber Company, Case No. 4D2022-2603 (Fla. 4th DCA 2024).

A credit agreement between a construction supplier and a builder does not negate implied breach of contract or negligence claims.

Palmer v. The Felicetti Law Firm, PLLC, Case No. 4D2023-0493 (Fla. 4th DCA 2024).

Attorneys cannot impose charging liens in excess of their fee agreements.

The School Board of Broward County v. Smith, Case No. 4D2023-0369 (Fla. 4th DCA 2024).

Arbitrators exceed their authority in violation of Florida Statute section 682.13 when their arbitration agreement provides jurisdiction to determine whether a violation occurred and the arbitrators declare both a violation and the remedy to the violation.

Flying Panda Florida, LLC v. Rutherford, Case No. 5D23-1697 (Fla. 5th DCA 2024).

Relying on Buckeye Check Cashing, Inc. v. Cardegna, 546 U.S. 440, 445-46 (2006), the Fifth District holds that “unless the challenge is to the arbitration clause itself, the issue of the contract’s validity is considered by the arbitrator in the first instance.”

Legal Resources / CLE

Christine Moreno, Legal Resources Committee Chair

FREE LEGAL RESEARCH: All members are reminded that our Martin County Public Library has free legal research available which is accessible at all branches of the Martin County Public Library System. If you forget to bring your USB for copying the research results, then one might be obtained for a nominal charge from the librarian, or you can always email your research results to yourself or print the results for a minor charge per page (although copying to USB is usually better).

Christine Moreno
Chair
